

40. (New) An article as defined in Claim 38, wherein the message interface web page comprises a hyperlink that enables a user to make requests for the message interface web page.

FI 41. (New) An article as defined in Claim 38, storing instructions, that if executed, enable the system to: send the message interface web page to a remote client.

42. (New) An article as defined in Claim 38, storing instructions, that if executed, enable the system to:
send the message interface web page to a local presentation interface.

Remarks:

In the Office Action, Applicant's Claims 6-10 and Claims 17-20 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over United States Patent No. 6,442,242 (McAllister, et al.) in view of United States Patent No. 6,282,275 (Gurbani, et al.). Claims 21 and 22 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as unpatentable over McAllister, et al., in view of Gurbani et al., and in view of United States Patent No. 6,112,233 (Xu).

Claims 6-10 and Claims 17-22 have been cancelled. Claims 23-42 are newly presented by this Amendment.

Specifically, Claims 23-42 recite a method (Claims 23-30), an apparatus (Claims 31-34), and an article of manufacture (Claims 35-42) to process a communication received from a sender, wherein one aspect of the process comprises using sender identification information that is included in message to conduct a search for correlated information that is related to the sender. In one embodiment, set forth in Applicant's Detailed Description, the sender information is a caller ID. The caller ID may be used to search the Internet, or other sources of information, for information correlated with the caller ID, e.g., for an email address. Because none of the cited references, nor any tenable combination of, or modification to, those references, discloses or suggests this aspect of Applicant's claimed invention, Applicant respectfully maintains that newly presented Claims 23-42 are patentable over the cited art.

CONCLUSION

In view of the above Amendments and Remarks, the subject application is now considered to be in condition for allowance, and the Examiner's prompt action in accordance therewith is respectfully requested. The Commissioner is authorized to charge any additional fees or credit any overpayment to Deposit Account No. 20-1504.

Respectfully submitted,
